

LIONBRIDGE QA SERVICES FOR GAMING

Deliver Unmatched Gaming Experiences to All Markets With Our Global Quality Assurance Network

Whether you're creating highly anticipated AAA titles or indie mobile games, you need top-notch Quality Assurance (QA) to bridge your development vision and the global gamer experience. Elevate your QA game with end-to-end testing services that ensure you deliver quality to market the first time, every time.

Break the Mold, Not the Game

You need your QA model to keep pace with continually evolving game development and delivery models. The rapid emergence of Gaming-as-a-Service (GaaS), cloud gaming, virtual reality, and IP regionalization has accelerated development cycles and added significant complexity to functional and localization testing.

Lionbridge Gaming takes your QA—and your game—to the next level. Our global network of test studios brings us closer to your development teams and global gamers. We test around the clock in every key region, support more than 60 languages and 25 platforms, and have more than 2,500 game projects successfully under our belt. Everything we do, from defect detection and mitigation to in-market testing to sophisticated business intelligence, is designed to elevate the gaming experience.

Test us out. Join the industry's top game developers, publishers, and platform holders who trust our unique combination of linguistic, cultural, and technical expertise to ensure top quality when they take their games global.
